The PERsonal facilitator: a challenge for VET

In the future, creativity, the ability to think laterally, adaptability and other transversal skills will be valued more than the specific bodies of knowledge that schools have traditionally taught.

Strategic framework for European cooperation in education and training - ET 2020.

The project is going to plan, design and release and intellectual output: “the personal facilitator” new curriculum. The personal facilitator is a high-skilled person who, inside private companies and public bodies, empowering and working on his/her basic and transversal skills (communication in the mother and foreign languages; digital competence; mathematical competence and basic competences in science and technology; learning to learn; interpersonal, intercultural and social competences and civic competence; sense of initiative and entrepreneurship; cultural expression) can help both working people and companies to reach two strategic results: improving the quality of working environment and the quality of services and improving the quality of workers lives, above all women in their reconciliation of work and family lives.
